GREGORIAN LATIN LITURGY

Until 1969, the various Catholic liturgies were all of Apostolic origin.

The Gregorian Latin liturgy, celebrated in this church, follows the tradition of Saint Peter, the first Pope, and has never undergone any essential change till the present time.

Every gesture, every word has been weighed and measured with the assistance of the Holy Ghost for the greater glory of God and the salvation of souls.

WELCOME VISITORS!

We thank you for coming. Whether you are just visiting us for a brief time, looking for a spiritual home, are returning to the practice of Catholic faith, or are interested in finding out more about the Catholic Church; we are happy to have you here, as you are.

Please take time to read this bulletin, to meet with the priest after Mass and to socialize. Enter the Holy Temple of the Good Lord to worship Him. Pax vobis! Peace be with you!

HOSPITALITY

“Let the charity of the brotherhood abide in you and hospitality do not forget; for by this some, being not aware of it, have entertained angels” (Heb. 13:1-2).

“Wherefore receive one another, as Christ also hath received you unto the honor of God” (Rom. 15:7).

“I URGE YOU THEREFORE, BROTHERS, BY THE MERCIES OF GOD, TO OFFER YOUR BODIES AS A LIVING SACRIFICE, HOLY AND PLEASING TO GOD, YOUR SPIRITUAL WORSHIP” (Rom. 12:1).

Out of respect for Our Lord Jesus Christ and for the edification of our neighbor, we beg all to appear in Church attired in decent deportment and modest dress.

However, no one has the right to question others, especially visitors. It belongs to the parish priest alone to instruct the laity when they repeatedly dress or deport below expectation.

For gentlemen and lads: Neither shorts, T-shirts, nor sneakers meet the norms of modesty.

For ladies and girls: Neither shorts, slacks, sleeveless, nor short or low-cut dresses meet the norms of modesty.

Furthermore, according to apostolic custom or Church law, gentlemen are bareheaded in church, and ladies are requested to cover their heads. Thank you for your charity.

“THE BREAD THAT I WILL GIVE, IS MY FLESH” (Jn. 6:52).

To receive Holy Communion:

One must be a baptized Catholic, having made a good confession since the last committed mortal sin - if any - in order to be in the state of Grace.

One must believe in the doctrine of Transubstantiation. “For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment upon himself” (1 Cor. 11:29).

One must observe one hour of Eucharistic fast. (Water and medicine do not break the fast. However, we advise abstinence from food and alcohol for three hours and one hour from other liquid before Holy Communion).

One must not be a public sinner (public adulterer, concubine, public homosexual), excommunicated, or interdicted.

The most important requirement is to have a great desire to receive the Body, the Blood, the Soul, and the Divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ. You may humbly approach the Communion rail at any time after the Communion of the priest.

Open your mouth wide and extend your tongue smoothly and horizontally. Do not say “Amen.” One should feel free to leave the pew in any order (versus in line) for Communion.

Do not judge your neighbor who abstains from receiving Holy Communion, as there is no obligation to receive it daily. However, “Live in a manner to be able to receive communion every day!” (St. Augustine)

N.B.: In this Church, the faculty to absolve sins is directly granted to the priests by the Holy Father.

WEEKLY SPIRITUAL READING: *THE ETERNAL HAPPINESS OF THE SAINTS

by St. Robert Bellarmine | Online Source: The eternal happiness of the saints ST Bellarmine.doc

CHAPTER V. THE HAPPINESS ENJOYED IN THE KINGDOM OF GOD. (continued)

But perhaps the riches of kings are pure, without any admixture of poverty. No, for none are so poor as kings; they have immense incomes and great treasures, but their debts and expenses are much greater.

He that possesseth little is not so poor as one who desireth many things, because he stands in need of them. And is it not a great proof of poverty when kings beg a mite, as it were, from the poor themselves, by exacting as taxes what is necessary for their support? I do not speak thus as if I wished to blame the exaction of tributes, for I know it is just they should be paid to kings, according to what St. Paul says in his Epistle to the Romans: "Wherefore be subject not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake. For therefore, also, you pay tribute. For they are the ministers of God, serving unto this purpose. Render therefore to all men their dues. Tribute, to whom tribute is due: custom, to whom custom: fear, to whom fear: honour, to whom honour." "Ideo necessitate subditi estote non solum propter iram sed et propter conscientiam. Ideo enim et tributa praestatis ministri enim Dei sunt in hoc ipsum servientes. Reddite omnibus debita cui tributum tributum cui vectigal vectigal cui timorem timorem cui honorem honorem" (chap, xiii:7) But I merely wished to show the miserable condition of kings, who, although they abound in riches, are yet compelled to collect a part of them from the poor and destitute. But what shall we say of their pleasures?

Kings have certainly gardens, orchards, sumptuous banquets, hunting, &c., and whatever else can amuse them; but they also have the gout, headaches, complaints in the liver; and what is more distressing, the most painful cares of the mind, which deprive them whole nights of sleep, together with suspicions, fears, and anguish. If the doors of their chambers creak at night, they suspect treachery; if an armed multitude have been seen, a desertion is apprehended.

Thus, joy is mixed with sorrow, and rest interrupted by care; this is the reason why many have resigned their crown, that they might lead a private life. But let us hear how St. John Chrysostom, in one of his Homilies (Hom. 66) to the people of Antioch, speaks of the kings of his time: "Look not at the diadem, but at the multitude of cares look not at the purple, but at the soul, blacker than the purple itself. The crown does not so much circle the head, as cares do the soul.

Neither consider the troops of attendants, but the multitude of troubles. For no private house can be found so full of cares as a palace: everyday deaths are expected, but in the night one cannot tell how often the soul is terrified, and thinks it is about to depart. And all this in time of peace. But when a war breaks out, what can be more miserable than life? How many dangers befall friends and subjects!
